OVER THE LAST WEEK
AS OF OCTOBER 25, 2024

QUICK TAKE

The long-term model has improved over the previous few weeks due to market breadth improvements and strong long-term equity market momentum.

The intermediate-model is positive as indicators such as options activity and fund flows are bearish. This is a positive from a contrarian perspective.

Market RISK has increased in the month of October. The VIX, which measures expected equity market volatility, is slightly below its long-term average while the MOVE index, which measures expected bond market volatility, is above average.

A Closer Look at Our Tactical Positioning Targets

Each day, Meeder analyzes and ranks over 70 different factors from our short, intermediate, and long-term models. The dynamic statistical model incorporates factors covering macroeconomic, fundamental, trends and technical analysis to estimate the potential reward and marketplace risk of the equity markets. The Meeder Spectrum, Muirfield, Balanced, Moderate Allocation, and Conservative Allocation funds utilize this strategy for the Defensive Equity portion of their portfolios. The Defensive Equity Strategy guides the allocation of each fund's equity sleeve and the actual proportion of equity investments in any fund will vary depending on the investment objectives of the fund.

UNDERSTANDING THE DEFENSIVE EQUITY SNAPSHOT

The vertical axis of the grid combines the scores of our long-, intermediate-, and short-term models to arrive at the reward value for the stock market. The horizontal axis represents the model's internal measure of stock market risk. The reward value is divided by marketplace risk to arrive at our recommended percentage of Net Equity Exposure.

Quick Take

- » We remain overweight high yield relative to investment grade as the Fed's easing cycle has begun and the economy continues to grow.
- » We are underweight emerging market debt as the dollar has continued to strengthen.
- » As the curve continues to steepen and rates continue to rise, we've shortened our duration further to 4.3 years.
